“What a great guy, tough as nails on the outside and a big marshmallow heart inside. He loved learning by reading, watching documentaries on TV, and even learned to surf the web googling whatever came to mind that he wanted to learn about. One of the greatest things I witnessed was him going from distrusting religion and preachers to becoming Saved after meeting our Pastor Joe Manuel.

When Joe humbly shared some of the dark times in his past (that Ron certainly could identify with) he learned that faith isn't about “religion” it's about a one on one relationship with God. Each time I would mention Joe, Ron would comment “I love that guy” and he meant it just like when Amy and I unknowingly left the room for the last time and he told Amy “Love You” and then pointed at me and said “Love you too”. Miss you Papa, I was blessed to have you in my life.
